

Please keep the ruling as it is. What telemarketers do is an invasion of privacy. They have no consideration or respect for anyone. They have no boundaries. I feel telemarketers are in violation of my right to privacy and what they do can be classified as harassment.

I do not want anyone calling my house if they are told not to.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Diane McDevitt